Troubleshoot a Stand-Alone License Error

When you activate your Autodesk product, only the computer that you used to activate the product is licensed to run the product. If you make certain changes to your computer, your stand-alone license might fail. You will receive a license error and you will not be able to use your product. This section discusses ways in which you can troubleshoot a license error.

Some license errors require you to reactivate your product. If you need to reactivate your product, the Product Activation wizard is displayed when you try to run the product. To reactivate your product, follow the instructions in the Product Activation wizard.

The following topics offer more details regarding specific errors.

Hardware Changes

If you replace or reconfigure hardware on the computer where your Autodesk product license resides, the stand-alone license might fail. You will not be able to use your product.

To prevent damage to your product license, use the License Transfer Utility to export your license file. After you make the hardware change, you can import the license file back. For instructions about using the License Transfer Utility, see Transfer Your Stand-Alone License on page 5.

NOTE If you get a license error when you change your hardware, you may have to reactivate your license. See Activate Your Product on page 2.

---

Reinstalling an Operating System

If you reinstall your operating system on the computer where your Autodesk license resides, the license might fail. You will not be able to use your product.

To resolve a license error in this case, you must reactivate your product. See Activate Your Product on page 2.

NOTE If using Norton Ghost™ or another image utility, do not include the Master Boot Record.
